

2010 George Brumley, Jr. Memorial Lecturer

Dr. Charles Lee

Director of Cytogenetics for the Harvard Cancer Center
Associate Professor of Pathology at Harvard Medical School
Associate Member of the Broad Institute of Harvard and MIT
Clinical Cytogeneticist at Brigham and Women's Hospital
Adjunct Associate Professor at the Chinese
University of Hong Kong
Recipient of the 2008 Ho-Am Prize in Medicine

Thursday, March 4, at 4:30 p.m.

Brumley Lecture:

"The impact of structural genomic variation on human diseases and disorders"

021 Searle Center

Reception to Follow the Lecture

Friday, March 5, at 9:30 a.m.

NPRI Retreat:

"Defining copy number variants (CNVs) in the human genome at a 500 bp resolution"

Ambassador Allen Room at the Washington Duke Inn